ARRIGHI

Centuries ago, Arrighi was a watch tower with an adjoining fortified farmhouse. It has a commanding view toward Tuscany and all along the Niccone Valley.

THE RESCHIO ESTATE

It is a joy to share the wilderness that is and always was, Reschio. For more than a millennium, the land was farmed, leaving spaces for indigenous flowers, forests and wild life to establish their own fiefdoms. Today, more than ever, we continue to honour those traditions and have maintained the ecological balance that means our lakes have pure water for swimming and fishing. Reschio was and will always be a safe, yet wild space that we share with those that come to stay for a week or maybe for years in a house of their own. Reschio, nature's paradise, remains for now and for future generations.

Enjoy a stroll along avenues of cypresses, explore the castle's chapels, savour our orto and taste freshly picked delicacies. Maybe linger in the Equestrian Centre to watch the Spanish horses practising their quick step before dropping in for lunch at Ristorante Alle Scuderie and Bar Centrale. Dive into the estate's lake and have a picnic in the cabin. Challenge the tennis coach at the Astroturf courts. Be tempted to the Reschio Hotel for drinks in the Palm Court or dine in the Ristorante Al Castello at sunset, a magical time when the Etruscan hills reveal their secrets.

ARRIGHI

The property was meticulously restored in 2004 and consists of three buildings: Main House, Guest House and Bread Oven. The imposing L-shaped main house which was the former fortified farmhouse and watch-tower, is approached through the entrance gates, past the guest cottage, up a short drive with Holm oaks and mature garden planted with ancient olive trees and Mediterranean plants.

A large paved courtyard with a fountain leads into Arrighi which has some fine Romanesque features and the origins of the building clearly date back to the 11th Century. It was renovated to preserve the austere external appearance whilst creating a spacious modern interior with sandstone flooring and a glass encased external staircase tower. Extensive private grounds and generous views, an 18x4m infinity pool and vaulted pool house all combine to make this a fascinating property.

There are five bedrooms in the main house of Arrighi, and an additional one-bedroom guest cottage, ensuring 12 guests can sleep in spacious accommodation. There is a minimum of seven nights rental required from May to November which is reduced to four nights from November to April. A maid service is available 7 days per week and the gardener, responsible for pool cleaning, will attend 6 days per week. For those staying more than 14 nights, a butler is included throughout your stay.
